

Sand Creek Massacre National Historic Site

Photograph and poster design © by Serle L. Chapman. The photograph was shot in the bed of Sand Creek on November 29, 2006, and is from Chapman's forthcoming book, Voices from Sand Creek.

Dedication

April 28, 2007

Little Bear, one of the bravest defenders of the Cheyenne Chiefs' Camp, who with a handful of other Cheyenne men fought a valiant rearguard action against overwhelming odds in an attempt to cover the Cheyenne and Arapaho non-combatants as they fled up the creek bed, November 29, 1864. At least one hundred and fifty could not be saved.

Private Joseph W. Aldrich, Company F, First Colorado Cavalry, one of the ten fatalities suffered by Colonel John M. Chivington's command at Sand Creek, November 29, 1864.